

THE BEST OF THE BEST OF WOMEN IN FILM

Judith James

As a long-time member of Women In Film, a Trustee of the Women In Film Foundation, and a prolific and successful producer, Judith James was committed to building Women In Film into an organization that could make a difference for women on a global scale.

Judith teamed with Ralph Edwards Productions to secure a multi-year sponsorship with General Motors Corporation, and with clear vision and unwavering commitment, she was able to strengthen the national alliance of all Women In Film chapters.

Over the past three years Judith, together with Barbara Dunn-Leonard, Risa Jewell and Regina Lightner, of REP, has overseen the WIF/GM Alliance, which has allowed Women In Film to broaden its programs throughout the country, institute new programs and grow into the more thriving, vibrant organization it is today.

The creativity, intelligence, diplomacy and elbow grease Judith has put into developing this vision is a lesson to us all, and something that all members of Women In Film should take to heart: If you believe in yourself and in your cause, there's no limit to where you can go. Judith's choice to give back has made a profound difference.

Judith, the Board of Women In Film and the Trustees of the Women In Film Foundation thank you for your dedication to the cause, and for your continuing devotion to Women In Film. You have truly changed our lives and the lives of countless women.
